My Proclivities:

Moonlit lakes, lemon cakes, and goodness sakes,
High stakes and any locale where the ocean breaks.
The concept of design infused in life by super being,
Plus evidence and logic, though limit depth of believing.

Synapses and neurons stimulated by my studies,
And debates of counter thoughts, though may frustrate, with all my buddies.
Humility of the martyr and the honor of the saint,
The power in a warrior with more powerful restraint.

Folks who share their jokes and gladly give what others lack,
And stoked about the offer though know nothing's proffered back.
The loyalty of the canine and the keenness of the raptor,
Velocity of the cheetah and the coming of hereafter.

Moments of mojitos and cervezas on the sand,
And the moments of importance with my focus in demand.
To swim among the fishes or to trim them up delicious,
Or pursue them in my kayak with a motive quite malicious.

Spinning bodies to up-tempo beats in dress donned to impress,
With focus on one beauty, leaving others to the rest.
A cityscape in distant view, seasoned by natural world
Complexity in life, yet with full life left to unfurl.
